SEDF – work-conserving

- ‣ In WC mode ($x_i = 1$), a VM is always runnable (given it has work to do). r_i is reset to s_i immediately after it reduces to 0, and d_i is incremented by p_i at the same time.

- ‣ The slack CPU time is allocated to VMs (whose $x_i=1$) in a weighted fair sharing manner.